Center for Bioethics
& Health Policy

Do you have personal experience with assisted reproduction or family formation?

The Center for Bioethics and Health Policy is exploring how future reproductive technologies, specifically ectogestation, could impact the legal definition of parenthood in the UK.

We are holding 1-hour online interviews with:

- individuals with experience of assisted reproduction,
- individuals with an interest in assisted reproduction,
- individuals born via assisted reproduction (e.g. IVF, surrogacy, donor conception)

Participants will receive 40 GBP voucher for their time.
